

Two Park Avenue, New York, NY 10016-5990 USA

31-10-2023

Dear Tanishk Gupta

103798291

Welcome to The American Society of Mechanical Engineers, your association that connects you to a global community of over 80,000 engineers, technical professionals, and engineering students. Like you, they are committed to developing solutions to real-world challenges and count on the cutting-edge content that ASME delivers.

Your support allows us to provide more of what you need to achieve your personal goals. As a Student Member, you get access to exclusive benefits, including:

- AccessEngineering reference tool with over 800 essential titles
- News sources including ASME SmartBrief
- ASME Mentoring Program links you with knowledge from an experienced professional
- ASME Career Center providing access to jobs and internships with top organizations
- Competitions, conferences, and more

Enclosed you will find your ASME membership card as well as your membership certificate, which we hope you will proudly display.

We encourage you to start building your professional network and explore the many benefits of belonging to make the most of your journey. Get started by creating your member profile online at go.asme.org/profileupdate and learn more about your benefits at go.asme.org/AccessMyBenefits.

Questions? Contact our customer service representatives at (800) THE-ASME or at 1-646-616-3100. You can also reach out to us via email at customercare@asme.org.

Warmest regards,

Thomas Costabile, P.E. Executive Director / CEO